About Us

Many different personal injury cases include car accidents, slip-and-fall accidents, medical malpractice, and more. A personal injury attorney represents victims injured after an accident caused by someone else's actions, including accidents resulting from negligence. At Church & Page PLLC, our attorneys take care of every aspect of your case. Even if your case ends up not going to trial, the help of an attorney may still make all the difference in the results you achieve. It takes a lot to recover from an injury. Sometimes you cannot work and sit at home as bills arrive. The last thing you need is dealing with insurance adjusters and endless paperwork while getting back on your feet. Our attorneys handle those tasks on your behalf and help you fight for maximum compensation, so all you need to do is focus on healing. If you want to learn more about us or look for a Yakima personal injury lawyer near me, don't hesitate to contact us!
